U. S. GUARDS AGAINST LARGE RED BUILDUP

New City Council Plans Clean-Up Days

Dates Set for May 17-18; Ask For Workers

Business Firms Are Requested To Donate Trucks

The Harrisburg city council yesterday inaugurated plans for two big clean-up days to be held in the city May 17 and 18, during which period everybody is expected to clean up his premises so that the debris can be hauled away.

Mayor Claud Gibbons will head the drive and will appoint whatever committees are needed to see that the days are successful. Definite plans will be announced later but in general, volunteer workers and trucks will pick up the stuff that is placed conveniently for them by the residents.

Mayor Gibbons said that businesses will be asked for the donation of trucks and workers on these two days.

None in Recent Years

The matter was brought up by Charles R. Hine, police commissioner, who said that several merchants had approached him on the matter of a cleanup day and that they had offered to donate trucks and help.

It was pointed out that the city is in need of cleanup days, as none have been held in several years.

The council decided that following the cleanup days, the police would be instructed to start a drive against weeds. A Harrisburg city ordinance requires that weeds must be kept cut in the city limits.

Other points of business also were taken up during the meeting. One thing brought up by Finance Commissioner Don Williams was that the city cigarette tax stamp money is declining. He stated that he feared some cigarette sellers were failing to place the penny stamps on all packages of cigarettes they sold and it was decided that the matter would be investigated.

To Buy Police Car
The city also voted to ask for sealed bids from Harrisburg auto dealers on what they could offer the city in the matter of a trade-in of the present police car on a new one.

It also was brought out at the meeting that the water board the night before had decided to trade in the seven-year-old pickup truck of the water department for a new truck.

Something started by the previous council was renewed yesterday. The last council, in an effort to eliminate fire traps in the city, had the deputy fire marshal and the fire chief work on the matter. Yesterday Commissioner Williams suggested the matter be renewed and declared he wanted to know just what effective procedure could be used in attacking this problem.

A request of Mrs. C. R. Van Trease for a Girl Scout parade and Tag Day this week end was granted by the council. A request to put miniature camp fires on the court house lawn was not acted upon as county authorities have jurisdiction over the court house premises.

Honest Boy Finds Woman's Purse,
Gives It to Police

Sunday a lad on South Jackson street found a pocketbook containing a considerable sum of money and immediately notified the city police. Today the loser of the pocketbook has the money returned to her and the boy is $5.00 richer and mighty proud he was honest.

Police Chief Ross Lane told the story today that he and Patrolman Tom Gram answered a call to 511 South Jackson and were told by Robert Reeder he had found a pocketbook and wanted to turn it over to the police to find its owner.

Monday a Mrs. Ryner, who lives at 420 South Jackson, came to the police station to inquire about the money, saying that she had lost a pocketbook and been told by a neighbor that a boy was seen finding one in the road and giving it to the police.

There were no identifying papers, but Mrs. Ryner had part of a broken strap in her purse that matched perfectly with the broken strap on the pocketbook, which contained $50.

She received the money and in turn rewarded young Reeder with a $5 bill, Chief Lane stated.

House Committee Approves 56-Hour Week for Firemen; Opposed by Mayors

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — A bill to give firemen in downstate cities a 56-hour week, which mayors said would either wreck their budgets or their fire departments, today was sent to the House floor with committee approval.

The House Municipalities Committee Tuesday recommended passage of the bill by a 19-4 vote. About 75 uniformed firemen in the House gallery cheered the committee vote.

Mayor Nelson O. Howarth of Springfield and Rep. Robert R. Romano (D-Chicago) clashed during the hearing. The verbal fireworks came after Romano put several city leaders testifying against the bill through rough cross-examinations.

Moline Mayor Paul Johnson charged the bill "violates home rule for cities." He said unless the Legislature also provided revenue to hire added firemen cities would have to reduce fire-fighting forces. Howarth said Springfield would lay off 8-10 firemen if the bill is passed.

After Romano questioned Johnson, Howarth remarked, "This reminds me of the story of Judge Beam. He always gave a man a fair trial before he hanged him."

When Romano rose to question Howarth he said, "By the way my name is not Judge Beam." Howarth hinted the Chicago Democrat had no reason for interest in the bill since Chicago firemen were not involved.

Romano replied he represented "the state of Illinois."

Rueben G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, said firemen, like other workers, deserved a shorter work week so they could spend more time with their families. He said Chicago firemen are now on a 56-hour week and it is working well.

Other witnesses objecting to the bill were Max Lipkin, Peoria corporation counsel, Earl Brobert, representing Maywood, and Elvin Williams, Mount Vernon city attorney.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bill reducing from 16 years to 14 years the age at which a boy can be indicted for forcible rape.

It passed and sent to the governor a series of Senate bills setting up a fund from motor fuel taxes to pay the state share for constructing railroad crossing protections.

Another bill sent to the governor's desk would permit ham radio operators to get license plates bearing their call numbers by paying an extra $3 fee to the secretary of state.

In committee action bills which received favorable votes would: Put state employees on a 5 1/2 day week on a 7 hour day.

First Heat Wave Topples Records In Midwest

By United Press

A record-breaking heat wave — the first of the year — stretched into the East today ahead of tornado winds and wild thunderstorms.

The heat has been toppling Midwest heat records for two days and threatened to do the same today.

At Detroit, where the 88 degrees Tuesday set a May 3 record, 75 employees of a Chrysler Corp. plant declared "It's too hot to work" and walked off their jobs.

The impromptu walkout forced one shift to shut down and 1,500 workers were sent home. Meanwhile, persons living in 600 suburban homes said there wasn't a drop of water in their pipes. A sprinkling ban was immediately imposed on the area.

Record-Breaking Heat
To add to Michigan's troubles, an unconfirmed tornado was reported today 15 miles north of St. Ignace over wooded timber land.

Chicago had a record-breaker for the second straight day when the temperature moved up to a blazing 91.9 degrees. It was the hottest May 3 on record, the hottest day this early in the year, and the hottest day since Sept. 6 last year.

Warmer temperatures were forecast in the East as cooler, rain-laden air pushed the hot mass ahead of it.

The weather mixed its punches farther West, however, and belted Iowa, Wisconsin, the Dakotas and Texas with flooding rains and destructive winds.

Prohibit liquor sales to women under 21 unless they were 18-21 and accompanied by an adult.

Ban construction of outdoor movie theatre screens so they are visible from a highway.

Increase penalties for littering highways more than one mile outside city limits.

Permit county boards to fix speed limits on secondary county roads.

Establish a new Department of Personnel to handle the state's personnel administration now spread over many agencies and appropriate 1 1/2 million dollars for the new department.

Appropriate $558,000 for the Mount Vernon Tuberculosis Sanatorium and $9,410,132 for the Illinois Youth Commission.

Appropriate $3,900,000 to the Illinois Public Aid Commission for emergency public aid.

U. S. Mortgaged To Hilt, Sen. Byrd Tells C. of C.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd said today that the federal debt "is equivalent to the full value of all the land, all the buildings, all the mines, all the machinery, all the livestock — everything of tangible value in the United States."

"I think no one can deny that we are mortgaged to the hilt," Byrd (D-Va.) said in an address to the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

"Today the direct debt of the federal government is 280 billion dollars," Byrd said. "Percentage-wise, this is an increase of nearly 1200 per cent over our debt in 1933."

"It is possible and in fact probable that before this astronomical debt is paid off, if it ever is, the interest charge will exceed the principal," Byrd warned.

He said that for 21 years out of the last 24 the government has spent more than it has collected in taxes. In these 24 years, he added, "we have balanced the budget in only three — and these were more by accident than by design."

Urges Halt to Foreign Aid
Byrd praised the Eisenhower administration's efforts to balance the budget. But he also charged that President Eisenhower has advocated the "longest step yet to federal paternalism" by recommending "the greatest increase in federal grants to states yet undertaken."

Byrd cited the President's multi-billion dollar proposals for increased federal aid for highway and school construction and for creation of a so-called federal health payment program.

He said these programs represent "three Pandora's boxes of new federal handouts to the states."

Byrd called for a halt in foreign aid spending and getting military expenditures "quickly in hand through control of unexpended balances."

In an earlier address to the chamber, a Commerce Department official said "aggressive, venture-some policies" in foreign trade by the United States can make the next 12 months "one of the better periods of our history."

Former Golconda Woman Killed in Auto Collision

Mrs. Mary McClanahan, Cogdill, 32, Peoria, a former resident of Golconda, was one of three persons killed in a three-car collision on U. S. 66 six miles north of Pontiac, Ill., Tuesday night. Three other persons were injured in the crash.

Mrs. Cogdill met instant death in the crash. Other dead were Eldon Goldhammer, 30, Peoria; and James Johnson, 48, East Chicago, Ind. Anna Gardner, 29, Chicago, suffered a broken leg and other possible injuries.

A passenger in one of the cars, James Herr, Pontiac, according to a United Press account of the crash, said the car in which Goldhammer and Mrs. Cogdill were riding collided with the car containing Johnson and Mrs. Gardner as Goldhammer tried to pass Herr.

The colliding cars wound up crosswise on the road, Herr said, and his car plowed into them.

Mrs. Cogdill was the daughter of Dennis McClanahan of Golconda. Her body will be returned to the Rottman funeral chapel at Golconda.

President Asks Fair Chance for Flexible Prices

Showdown Vote Nears in House on Democratic Bill

By United Press

President Eisenhower asked today that his flexible farm price support system be given a chance to prove itself before Congress scraps it.

He spoke out as a showdown vote approached in the House on a Democratic bill to restore the high rigid supports which were replaced by the flexible system last year.

Both sides predicted victory. But neither appeared too confident, and both conceded the vote would be close.

Other congressional news:

Trade: The Senate defeated by voice vote a proposal to scrap the 21-year-old reciprocal trade program. The beaten proposal was offered by Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.) as the Senate debated an administration measure to continue the program for three years. A final vote is expected late today or Thursday.

Highways: Thirteen governors, five of them Democrats, urged a House roads subcommittee to approve the President's 10-year, $101,000,000 highway construction program. They argued against a five-year, $21,500,000,000 substitute approved by a Senate highways subcommittee.

Extension: The House Government Operations committee approved a bill to extend the life of the Hoover Commission on Government reorganization to June 30. The bill has been passed by the Senate. The commission is scheduled to die at the end of this month.

Prisons: Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. asked restoration of $3,960,000 trimmed by the House from the Justice Department's appropriation bill. He said the money is needed for prison construction.

Floor debates: The House moved toward a final vote on the farm bill while the Senate, which convened 90 minutes early, waded through proposed amendments to the trade measure.

Administration sources said Mr. Eisenhower and the State Department consider as acceptable the changes made in the trade legislation by the Senate Finance Committee to placate some of its foes. This appeared to put the odds heavily in favor of passage of the bill.

The trade measure would extend the reciprocal trade law for three years and authorize the President to cut tariffs 5 per cent in each of the next three years.

The farm bill would restore price supports at 90 per cent of parity for the five basic crops through 1957. Under the flexible program now in effect, supports can vary from 82 1/2 to 90 per cent this year and 75-90 per cent next year, depending on supplies.

Police Find Little Girl Wandering
From Her Home

A two-year-old girl wandered away from her home yesterday and the frantic mother called the police for help. The little girl was found happily playing several blocks from her home, Police Chief Ross Lane reported today.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed King, 1028 South Land, was missed by her mother and Chief Lane and Patrolman Tom Gram answered the call to look for her.

They picked up the trail by talking with persons in the neighborhood and trailed her as far as 1200 South Hobson. From there no one recalled seeing a little girl.

The police decided that the place for a child to go would be where there were many other children playing and in that part of town the housing project seemed to be the answer.

They went to the housing project and there the two-year-old was having a fine time with others near her own age. She was returned home safely.

Soldier Sentenced
Following Crash
When Woman Killed

Lawrence Tibbetts, soldier from O'Neal, Nebraska, stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., yesterday was sentenced to 45 days in the Galatin county jail and ordered to pay $33 court costs after his plea of guilty the preceding day to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

Tibbetts was arrested near Shawneetown early Sunday after the car in which he was driving left the highway on a curve and crashed, killing his companion, Norma Jean Jerrells of Shawneetown.

CARRIER MILLS VILLAGE BOARD OF TRUSTEES, in session for the first time following the election Tuesday, April 19. Tuesday evening the Village Board of Trustees of Carrier Mills met in the city hall and organized for the coming year. The three members of the board re-elected in the recent election—Freeman Dale Pankey, Parish Miller and Hughie Gilchrist—were given the oath of office by Clerk Harry Tanner, who is starting his 19th year as clerk of the board. From left to right, seated, Harry Tanner, clerk; Mayor Freeman O'Keefe, president of the board; Hughie Gilchrist, trustee and chairman of the finance committee; Parish Miller, trustee and chairman of the committees of fire department, water department, public property; standing, left to right, Curtis Capel, trustee and chairman of the department of public safety; Freeman Dale Pankey, trustee and chairman of the order of the streets and alleys committee; and Fred Bailey, trustee and chairman of the streets and alleys committee. ### Maddened Dog Attacks Girl, 17, in Street

NEW YORK (UP)—A maddened boxer dog attacked a thin 17-year-old girl on a Brooklyn street Tuesday night and bit her repeatedly during a 10-minute struggle before her 18-year-old escort managed to choke the dog to submission with his belt.

A crowd of several dozen persons watched for minutes without interfering as the boy, the dog and the screaming girl fought in the street. The first onlooker to offer aid went after the boy in the mistaken impression the dog was protecting the girl from attack.

Police said Helen Watters, a high school senior, and Peter Gagliardi, a senior at another high school, were walking to Helen's home about 10 p. m. after baby sitting for her married sister.

The male boxer, weighing several pounds more than the 105-pound girl, followed them for some time. Miss Watters noticed him and said to her escort: "Pet, you're going to think I'm silly, but I think that dog is going to go for us."

As Gagliardi turned, the dog, its mouth foaming, sprang past him onto Miss Watters, knocking her to the ground and sinking his teeth in her thigh. As the boy fought to pull the dog off, the boxer ripped at the girl's legs with his teeth and claws, pursuing her as she tried to roll away and tearing at her clothes.

Gagliardi finally managed to get an arm around the dog and put his body between the dog and the girl. With the eventual aid of three onlookers, he pulled off his own belt, looped it around the dog's neck and pulled it tight.

Miss Watters was treated for severe bites of the legs, back, hands and arms. Gagliardi was not bitten.

Police said the dog had been sought since early Tuesday when it bit a 12-year-old girl, Marilyn Kessler. Its owner was not known, and the dog was sent to the Brooklyn animal shelter for examination for rabies.

Dr. Arthur Franks Jr., 39, Dies; Was Popular Local Physician

Funeral Services Will Be Held Thursday 2:30 p. m.

Dr. Arthur Franks Jr., 39-year-old Harrisburg physician, died at 3:45 p. m. yesterday at his home, 620 South McKinley avenue. Dr. Franks had been ill for the past few years but had continued his practice through most of the time he was ailing.

His body was moved to the Gaskins funeral home, where it lies in state. It will be taken to the First Baptist church at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, one hour before the 2:30 p. m. funeral service. Conducting the rites will be the Rev. R. J. Morman, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. J. D. McCarty, pastor of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church. Burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be Garrett Crews, Ed Brantley, Bishop Hill, Curtis Small, John Slightom, Lawrence Caluffetti, Charles Skaggs and Eli Lasersohn. Members of the Saline County Medical society will be honorary pallbearers.

Starred in Athletics
Dr. Franks, one of the most popular figures in Harrisburg for 21 years, was born in this city Oct. 21, 1915, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franks Sr.

He starred in football and basketball at Harrisburg Township high school, from which he was graduated in 1933, and entered the University of Illinois, where he attended one year. There he received his freshman award in football.

He spent part of a term at Southern Illinois university before receiving an appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. While there he played first string quarterback on the varsity football team for two years.

However, he resigned from the academy to return to Harrisburg to help his father, who was ill, with his bottling plant. But later he resumed his education at Southern, receiving his degree in education.

He taught and coached for one year at Lexington, Ill., then entered the service during World War II as an ensign in the Navy.

He was on the Aircraft Carrier Enterprise in the Pacific for 16 months. Began Practice Here in 1951

After his return from service he began his medical education and received his degree from St. Louis university in 1950, then interned at St. Mary's hospital in East St. Louis for one year.

Dr. Franks began his practice here in 1951, opening offices in the Harrisburg hospital, but in January of 1952 became ill and required surgery which kept him out of his office for several months.

Returning to practice at the Lightner hospital, he kept up his work until February of this year, when he underwent surgery which definitely showed the grave condition he was in.

In 1938 he was married to Miss Betty Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burnett of this city. There are three children, Judy, a high school sophomore; Lynn, a third grade pupil at McKinley school; and Arthur Burnett, 5, a kindergarten pupil.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Denzil Pearson of Harrisburg, and a brother, Bill Franks, of Vienna. A brother, John Bynum Franks, was killed in an auto crash in 1933.

Besides being a member of the Saline County Medical society, he was a member of the First Baptist church, the Masonic and Elks lodges, Phi Chi social fraternity, Alpha Omega Alpha honorary medical fraternity at St. Louis university, and the American Society of Anesthesiologists, Inc.

Virtual Cease-Fire In Formosa Straits
TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—There was virtually a cease fire in Formosa Strait today as far as military activity by both sides was concerned. There was only a smattering of artillery fire breaking the quiet along the island battlefield. A Nationalist war communique said Red artillery fired four rounds at two tiny islets near Quemoy Tuesday.

Etinguish Blaze
A fire in the debris pen back of the Kroger store on North Main street was extinguished last night before there was damage to the building. When firemen arrived the debris was in flames but they quickly subdued them. The run was made at 8:15 p. m.

City Licenses
Now Available
All city licenses were due May 1 and may be purchased at the city clerk's office, Harrisburg Chief of Police Ross Lane stated today.

Would Point To Formosa, President Says

No Comment on How U. S. Would React To Island Attack

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today that a Chinese Communist attack on Quemoy and Matsu islands, backed by excess military equipment, would justify an assumption that such an assault was pointed at Formosa.

But Mr. Eisenhower was careful not to say how the United States would react to such an attack.

The United States is committed to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. But Mr. Eisenhower repeatedly has refused to tip his hand on how this government would react to a Red attack on Quemoy and the Matus. Immediately off the coast of Red China.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that if there were an accumulative buildup and an attack started against the offshore islands with excessive types and kinds of equipment, this would justify the assumption that something more than an attack on those islands was intended.

He pointed out that Red China never has said it was going to attack the Nationalist held off-shore islands. The Reds, he added, always have said they were going to "liberate" Formosa.

No Progress on Cease Fire
On the Far East situation, the President also reported that:

1. No progress has been made yet in arranging cease-fire negotiations with the Chinese Reds. The United States at the moment is in a wait-and-see attitude toward the Red Chinese effort to negotiate Far Eastern problems, including Formosa. A number of countries are interesting themselves in the situation but there really is nothing new to report.

2. No one has recommended to the President that a permanent major U. S. military base be set up on Formosa. He did not answer directly when asked if the United States might put some additional token ground forces on Formosa. He pointed out that the United States already has a military advisory assistance group on Formosa. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told reporters Tuesday that this group "probably will be enlarged."

The President has said in the past that he will decide whether a Red attack on the offshore islands is aimed at Formosa.

Does Not Expect Crisis
Mr. Eisenhower was asked today to outline the various considerations which would be applied by him to distinguish a purely local attack on the offshore islands and one which might be pointed at Formosa.

Without committing himself, he said:

Govs. Stratton, Kohler Defend Eisenhower's $101 Billion Road Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A political storm brewed today over President Eisenhower's 101-billion-dollar 10-year highway construction program.

Democratic state governors were invited to the Democratic National Committee to hear Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) outline a five-year $21,300,000,000 substitute approved by his Senate subcommittee on highways.

Republican Govs. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin and William G. Stratton of Illinois scheduled an argument before a House subcommittee aimed at reversing the Senate group's stand.

Gore's talk to the governors about road-building featured the opening session of a two-day meeting by the Democratic National committee to discuss plans for the 1956 political campaign.

Some Boycott Meeting

Some Democratic governors boycotted the meeting. Among them was Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, who bolted to the Eisenhower ticket in 1952 and favors the administration's road-building program.

Kennon and Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio refused to have anything to do with a Democratic conference called on the heels of a two-day meeting to which the White House invited governors of both political parties.

Kohler and Stratton set the stage for an all-out fight for the Eisenhower road bill at a news conference late Tuesday after the White House meetings were ended.

Both said the Eisenhower plan would build more roads than the Gore proposal. They said the administration plan would pay for itself in saving lives and in economic expansion.

The Two Plans

Kohler told reporters an overwhelming majority of the state governors are for the administration plan.

The Eisenhower program calls for less matching funds from the states than the Gore measure. The administration bill would continue the present system of 50-50 matching by the state and federal governments. But, it would put 90 per cent of the cost of an interstate road system on the federal government.

The two Republican governors also defended the Eisenhower plan of a 20-billion-dollar bond issue to be financed out of federal gasoline taxes over the next 30 years.

Stratton said the 11 billion dollars interest on the bond issue would be "paved" compared with the cost of lives and economic stagnation resulting from the present inadequate highway system.

State May Get More Vaccine Than Expected

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The state purchasing agent today released figures showing the state may get more than twice as much Salk polio vaccine for its million dollars than originally expected.

Purchasing agent Vernon R. Forgue said he believes the state can buy 100,000 6-cubic centimeter vials and 100,000 0.5-cubic centimeter vials for the million dollars.

If Forgue's estimates are correct the million dollars will buy 1,200,000 cc. of the vaccine. If each child is given two shots of 1 cc., each then 600,000 children could receive free shots provided by the state.

It originally was estimated the million dollars would buy only enough vaccine for about 250,000 children on a two-shot program.

Forgue said invitations for bids on the 100,000 vials of each size will go out today and Thursday. He said the list of invited bidders will include the five federally-approved drug manufacturers of Salk vaccine as well as the state's regular list of drug distributors and wholesalers.

Only about 10 per cent of dogs received at the Army Dog Training Center, Fort Carson, Colo., fail to qualify for any of its courses.

Mamie's Health Basically Good, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that his wife has had a very serious virus infection this spring, but that basically she is a good healthy person.

He told a news conference that she also has an allergy to some drugs which normally are helpful to most people in such cases. The President said this had posed a real problem for the doctors.

The President did not describe in detail his wife's illness. But previous White House announcements had said she had been suffering from a respiratory ailment—evidently by what commonly is called "flu."

Mr. Eisenhower was asked about Mrs. Eisenhower's health by an inquiring reporter who acknowledged gingerly that he was asking at the risk of intruding into the President's personal affairs.

The President was reminded that at least one Democratic official had said he might not run for an other term because of his wife's health. It was pointed out also that Mrs. Eisenhower had spent a long convalescent period and then had been required to cancel social engagements after recovery had seemed assured.

Thoughtfully, Mr. Eisenhower said he believed the question was a legitimate one but he would not comment on what other people had said about it.

In respect to his wife's health, he said he believed it had generally been better in the last two years than it had been during the last 10 years as a whole. Then he told of the virus infection.

Singer Offers Over $85,000 Prizes in Junior Dress Making Contest

Over $85,000 in prizes are being offered this year in the annual Junior dress making contest by the Singer Sewing Machine Co. Girls 10 to 13 are eligible in one contest and girls 14 through 17 are eligible in the other.

There are eight cash prizes including a $1000 award, 132 brand new Singer sewing machines, 33 scholarships, each a $300 value to accredited colleges for girls majoring in home economics.

This is a golden opportunity for 4-H sewing club members, future home makers, and other girls who are "handy with the needle."

Several have been to the Singer Center here to enter the contest, according to Mr. Winchester, manager of the Center.

Roger Blough, 51, Is Named U. S. Steel Chairman

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger M. Blough, 51, a stocky, soft-spoken Yale law school graduate, reports for work today as top boss of U. S. Steel Corp., mightiest steelmaking concern in the world.

When "Big Steel's" directors picked Blough as board chairman and chief executive officer, it climaxed a rapid rise through the legal ranks to the number one spot in the steel industry.

Blough was named late Tuesday as the man to succeed Benjamin F. Fairless who retired at the age of 65.

He assumes the main policy-making post of U. S. Steel just as the company prepares to start negotiations on a crucial wage contract with the CIO United Steelworkers.

Marion Marlowe, Larry Puck to Wed

NEW YORK — Singing star Marion Marlowe and television producer Larry Puck, both fired by television star Arthur Godfrey, will be married in St. Louis Friday.

Their courtship cost Puck his job with Godfrey. He was fired as one of Godfrey's directors immediately after he and Miss Marlowe announced their engagement.

Miss Marlowe was one of six entertainers fired by Godfrey last month.

The couple plans a two-week Bermuda honeymoon following the ceremony.

Social and Personal Items

Announce Engagement Of Former Harrisburg Girl

Mrs. Eunice Reynolds of Harrisburg announces the engagement of her granddaughter, Miss Beverly Joan Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Dixon, 11764 West Outer Drive, Detroit, Mich., to James Edward Bedient of Detroit. The Dixons are former Harrisburg residents, as are the bride-to-be's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Dixon of Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Dixon will graduate from the Redford, Mich., high school in June. Mr. Bedient, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bedient, is a graduate of that school with the class of 1953.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, June 4, at 6 p. m. at the Grace Lutheran church of Redford.

Lowden Perkins of Harrisburg Route 3 is in the Harrisburg hospital suffering from a heart condition. He was taken there late yesterday by ambulance from his home south of Harrisburg. Mr. Perkins became ill yesterday while working on a job near Brookport for the J. D. Barter Construction Co. and was taken to his home by other workers. He then was moved to the hospital.

Midway IOOF Lodge No. 942 will hold its regular meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Visitors are welcome. Carl Ewell, N. G.

Horace Mann P.T.A. Installs New Officers

New officers for the 1955-56 term were installed at the regular May meeting of the Horace Mann P.T.A. held Monday night.

Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, district director for District 30, installed the following: President, Mrs. Paul Tanner; vice president, Mrs. Bill Gall; secretary, Mrs. H. N. Jarvis; treasurer, John Cape.

Following the installation service Mrs. James Gwaltney, outgoing president, presented a gift to Mrs. Bramlet in appreciation for her help.

During the regular business meeting, the treasurer's yearly report was given and major expenditures during the year were reviewed. These included the purchase and installation of an outdoor drinking fountain, repairs to the movie machine, scholarship fund, purchase of cups and allowances for two delegates to the state convention.

Mrs. Tanner gave an interesting and informative report on the state convention held at Chicago, to which she and Mrs. Gall were delegates from the Horace Mann group. After the installation the fifth and sixth grade mixed chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Jarvis, sang three numbers.

Preceding the 7 o'clock meeting, third grade mothers served punch and cookies from a beautifully decorated tea table in the upper hall.

China Signs Trade Pact with Japanese

Polio Cases in Nation Lagging Behind Last Year

By United Press
Polio cases this year are lagging behind the pace set in 1954, even though 38 children inoculated with Salk vaccine have been afflicted, a survey showed today.

A United Press check of 44 states and the District of Columbia showed 1,138 cases of infantile paralysis, compared to 1,573 at this time last year. Six of this year's victims have died—two each in Louisiana and Idaho and one each in Illinois and Minnesota.

Cutter Vaccine
The latest cases were among the estimated 500,000 youngsters who had received inoculations of Salk vaccine manufactured by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

The vast majority of polio cases among vaccinated children occurred after inoculations of Cutter vaccine. A temporary ban has been placed on Cutter vaccine, although scientists emphasized that there was no evidence that it or any other kind of Salk vaccine was to blame for the 38 polio cases.

A breakdown of the 38 cases showed 16 in California, 11 in Idaho, three in Oregon, two in Louisiana, and one each in Missouri, Georgia, Colorado, Washington, Texas and Illinois. There were two suspected cases among vaccinated children in Nevada.

The latest cases to be reported were three children in the Portland, Ore., area. They are among 1,800 Oregon children who have received inoculations of Cutter Vaccine from private physicians.

Official Polio Tally
The U. S. Public Health Service, whose official tally usually runs behind unofficial counts, listed only 29 confirmed cases of polio among Salk-inoculated children.

These broke down into 14 in California, nine in Idaho, two in Louisiana, and one each in Georgia, Washington, Colorado and Illinois. The encouraging lag in polio cases across the nation became apparent as state governors and the Eisenhower administration came to apparent agreement in plans for a voluntary system of distributing the revolutionary Salk vaccine.

Despite the apparent drop in polio cases this year, the crippling disease was claiming victims ahead of schedule in some parts of the country. Many more cases, and a more accurate picture of this year's fight against polio, will come with the arrival of hot "polio season" weather.

Illinois Civil Defense Chief Hits A-Blast 'Ballyhoo'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The civil defense director for Illinois has called the oft-postponed civil defense atomic test "a lot of big ballyhoo" and said it was an "unwise decision" to bring people to witness the blast.

Brig. Gen. Robert M. Woodward, one of several hundred observers still waiting for the test after eight postponements caused by unfavorable weather, said that just as much could be learned "by reading mimeographed copies of the lectures given here and by watching films of the test."

"The fact that you see the blast doesn't give you too much," Woodward said Tuesday.

He and Val Petersen, federal civil defense administrator, was a "conscientious and able man," but added "there are some members of his staff who couldn't organize a Boy Scout movement."

He also complained that observers had been "subjected to gouging and high prices" and were looked on as "unwelcome guests" by lavish Las Vegas resort hotels.

U. S. May Send More Air Experts To Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department may expand the number of American aviation experts on Formosa to help with the Chinese Nationalist air power build up, an official said today.

He said that was one of the likely developments Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had in mind when he told reporters Tuesday the Formosa-based U. S. military assistance group "probably will be enlarged."

Radford, after an hour with President Eisenhower, told newsmen that there is "no question" as to the Red buildup and he specifically cited new airfields. The admiral and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson reported to the President on their recent trip to Formosa for conferences with Nationalist leaders.

4-H Club News

The minutes were read and roll call made by the secretary. Talks were given by Eddie Steinsultz and Frieda Winters.

Games were played and refreshments served to Larry Dutton, Roger Rice, Tommy and Christine Tuttle, Joanne, Johnnie and Frieda Winters and Eddie Steinsultz. The next meeting will be at the home of Roger Rice.

The regular meeting of the Southeastern Clod Hoppers was held at the home of Mickey Cummings. There were four new members present, Jimmy Bilsman, Harry Alvey, Jimmy Beasley and Larry Beasley.

The president called the meeting to order after which the leader, John Endsley Jr., gave out project books. Refreshments were served and games were played.

Actress Wins Court Fight with Jewelry Firm

HOLLYWOOD — Green-eyed Linda Christian completed plans for a trip to Spain today after winning a divorce and an estimated one million dollar settlement from actor Tyrone Power and then scoring another court victory over a New York jewelry firm.

The 27-year-old actress wept as she testified in nearby Santa Monica that Power became "cool and distant and very abrupt in his manner" in 1952. Miss Christian said a divorce was put off at the time when she told him she was expecting a baby.

The actress made no mention of British actor Edmund Purdom, her escort since she separated from Power last fall. Purdom's wife, Tita, however, cleared the way for his divorce in another court in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Purdom, who had asked for a 90-day truce in the proceedings in order to attempt a reconciliation "for the sake of our children," said Purdom had shown
"no interest" and requested the truce be ended.

After the brief 15-minute hearing
Tuesday, Miss Christian dried her tears and won another legal battle.
The New York jewelry firm of Van Cleef and Arpels had asked she be arrested for "concealing" $32,500 in unpaid for jewelry given her by Milwaukee socialite Robert H. H. Schlesinger.

Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid denied the motion after Miss Christian entered an affidavit saying she considered the jewels her property and that she had them in a "safe place with full precautions against loss or theft."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Army Will Build Subways Under Greenland Ice; Len Hall
Gets Hawled Out By Pan
American Airways; Chinese Will Attack Two Smallest Islands In May.

WASHINGTON. — The Army engineers will burrow under Green-land's mighty icecap this summer and, if successful, run subway trains beneath the packed snow and ice just as subways now run under New York City.

This spectacular project, known as Operation Icecube, is awaiting final approval by the Danish authorities who govern Greenland. A volunteer construction crew of six officers and 172 men, commanded by Lt. Col. Elmer Clark, is standing by to begin the dangerous tun-neling through the solid, million-year-old ice. Their work will be supervised by 60 scientists, all Arctic specialists.

Using the latest snow-tunneling equipment, they will bore 100 feet below the ice to build this unique, deep-freeze subway. Purpose is to link scattered Arctic outposts by fast electric trains that will streak under the icecap with troops and supplies.

Greenland stands — a mammoth, stationary iceberg — in the path of Soviet bombers that could strike America from Arctic bases.
Actually the island is a huge submerged valley, packed to the brim with snow that spills over the mountainous outer rim into the sea. This tremendous snowdrift, accumulated for centuries, is nearly two miles deep at some points.

The surface is a Sahara of snow, whipped by winds over 150 miles an hour, frozen by stark, 70-below temperatures. But underneath, the conditions are calm, the temperature is a constant 13 degrees below zero.

Besides protection from the terrible storms and severe temperatures the proposed under-ice transportation system would be safe from detection by enemy bombers.
Already the Army engineers have built sinking Arctic outposts, whose buildings are designed like submarines to sink on an even keel, leaving only antennas and hatchways poking above the snow.

Construction on the Arctic subway will begin in July, probably near Thule Air Force Base. The first effort will be experimental to determine how feasible the project is. Cost is expected to run no more than it takes to build an average, two-lane concrete highway.
But its value may be immeasurable in conquering the forbidding but strategic Arctic—another triumph for American ingenuity.

HALL GETS PANNED
Genial Len Hall, chairman of the GOP National committee, has to carry a lot of gripes and trouble on his broad shoulders. He is used to most of them, takes them in his stride. But he was flabber-gasted when an explosive gripe was delivered in his office by an old backer of the GOP.

He was Sam Pryor, former GOP national committeeman from Connecticut, a Wendell Willkie campaign manager, and now vice president and chief lobbyist for Pan American Airways. Pryor has helped to raise a lot of money for Republican campaigns and his visits are not unwelcome at GOP headquarters—except for this one.
This time he came storming into Chairman Hall's office fit to be tied.

"I am going to get you if it's the last thing I do," the angry Pryor told the genial Hall.

And he proceeded to blame the GOP committee for failure to reappoint Oswald Ryan to the Civil Aeronautics Board. Ryan is the friend of Pan American Airways, who, from his vantage point on the CAB, had helped deliver important routes to the "world's Biggest Airline." Though Pryor consistently denied to this writer and others—that Ryan was a friend of Pan Am or had done any favors, he seemed to have forgotten these denials when he talked to Hall.

Hall was too amazed to say very much during the interview, but afterward he remarked to associates that never in his life had anyone ever talked to him that way and he wasn't going to let it happen again.

Note: Ryan has been replaced on the CAB by Ross Rizley, a former GOP national committeeman from Oklahoma.

OTHER CHINESE ISLANDS
Chou En-Lai's latest olive branch may be Communist camouflage to hide war moves along the Chinese coast. Intelligence reports warn that a Red assault is imminent against two Nationalist-held coastal islands—not Quemoy and Matsu, but two whose names haven't broken into the headlines.

They are Wuchiu and Pinghai, two small Nationalist outposts lying mid-way between Quemoy and Matsu. Their capture would cut one side of the Quemoy-Matsu-Formosa triangle and provide bases for harassing Nationalist supply lines.

Wuchiu is defended by 1,800
tough Nationalist troops; the Ping-hai garrison is even smaller. Another 400 guerrillas use the islands as bases for raids against the mainland. Yet they would be no match for a junk-borne invasion army of 35,000 Reds, known to be massing for the assault.

Communist patrol boats have already taken soundings and charted the approaches to the two islands. The attack is expected early in May.

Big A-Blast Again Postponed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The Atomic

poned until Thursday a big atomic blast scheduled as a civil defense preparation test.

The AEC said adverse winds forced postponement of the test for the ninth straight day. The test is now scheduled for shortly after 8 a. m. EDT Thursday. A weather evaluation will be held at 1:30 today to determine if weather conditions will permit holding the test.

See House Fight On Compromise Postal Pay Bill

WASHINGTON — A House fight appeared possible today over the compromise bill to grant an average 8.8 per cent pay increase to the nation's 500,000 postal workers.

Both Chairman Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) of the House Post Office
Committee and Rep. Edward H.
Rees (R-Kan.), its ranking Republican, indicated they even may oppose the measure when it comes to the floor for action later this week, probably on Thursday.

Murray and Rees were members of the House Conference Committee which worked out the measure with Senate conferees Tuesday. It represented a compromise between the 8.2 per cent boost approved by the House earlier and the 10 per cent increase voted by the Senate.

Both Murray and Rees said that, in their opinion, the compromise measure would not get the President's approval. They also have made it clear they would vote to sustain any such veto.

But Chairman Olin D. Johnston
(D-S.C.) of the Senate Post Office committee, who headed the Senate conferees, was not pessimistic about the compromise's future.

"It is believed that the agreement is one which can be passed immediately by both the Senate and the House and approved by the President," he said.

The compromise bill would add 173 million dollars to the Post Office Department's annual pay-

Shrine Ceremonial Saturday at East St. Louis

Four thousand Shrine nobles are expected to meet at East St. Louis Saturday, May 7, to participate in the Ainad Temple spring ceremonial to be held in the million-dollar mosque located at Sixth and St.
Louis avenue.

The affair will get underway at 10:30 a. m. when 200 candidates for the ceremonial will report for processing.

One of the main features of the day will be a colorful mile-long parade through the downtown section of East St. Louis beginning at 3
p. m. Ainad's marching units, with red fezzes and in full ceremonial regalia, along with bedecked floats, trick cars and comedy features representing the 27 southern Illinois Shrine clubs under Ainad's jurisdiction will take part in the demonstration.

Ledford Also Entitled To 15-Year Ellis Pin

Through an error in the office personnel of the Ellis Trucking Co.
there was a misunderstanding as to the number of years of service
E. E. Ledford Jr. of Harrisburg has had with the company.

Ledford's name was omitted and he was not pictured in yesterday's Daily Register along with other veteran employees because of the error.

The mistake has been corrected by the company, Ledford said today, and he is entitled to a 15-year pin.

The version approved by the House would have cost 169 million dollars and the one passed by the Senate 220 million dollars.

House Votes to Investigate Toll Road Commission

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois House Tuesday voted to conduct an investigation of the Illinois Toll Road Commission and the law which created it.

The House passed an investigation resolution with a majority of Republican sponsors by voice vote after voting 96-32 to suspend the rules for immediate consideration of the matter.

Rep. Arthur W. Sprague (R-La Grange), leading sponsor of the resolution, made the motion to suspend the rules. He said the legislature "is nearing the end of the session and to get any kind of a report we will have to act speedily."

Rep. Joseph J. Lelivelt (D-Chicago) said he was "glad to see this is no longer a party matter."
The Democrats had twice voted heavily in favor of such an investigation but were beaten by the Republican majority.

Rep. John W. Lewis (R-Marshall), majority floor leader and administration floor leader, tried to head off the investigation.

Lewis said Gov. William G.
Stratton has proposed an advisory commission to the Toll Roads Commission and the bill for this commission was introduced Tuesday.

He also offered to co-sponsor a bill requiring Senate confirmation of all appointments to the Toll Road Commission.

Sprague formerly opposed the toll roads investigation but moved for a reconsideration of the matter after Toll Roads Commission Chairman Evan Howell was charged on the House floor with improper personal conduct.

Forgives Woman For Killing Wife In Auto Crash

CHICAGO (AP)—Joanne Giesecke, 26, escaped prison because a rabbi forgave her for killing his young wife in an auto crash.

The rabbi, Lipman Rabinowitz, was wheeled into court in a wheel chair Tuesday and asked probation for Miss Giesecke.

Last Sept. 5 Miss Giesecke drove a friend's convertible over a curb, killing Rabinowitz's 21-year-old wife, Esther. Rabinowitz was injured seriously and one of his legs still is broken.

Miss Giesecke was found guilty of reckless homicide and could have been sentenced to from one to five years in prison.

But Rabinowitz said "society has nothing to gain by sending this young woman to jail. I am sure she has suffered enough."

Judge John J. Lyons commented "If one who has lost so much can ask that she be given probation, then the court must seriously consider it."

He placed Miss Giesecke on three years' probation and ordered she cannot drive a car during that period.

Miss Giesecke's attorney, George Crane, then got up to thank the rabbi.

"All my life I have heard of the milk of human kindness, but this is the most magnificent demonstration of it I have even seen," he said.

Americans drank an average of about 17 gallons of beer and other malt brews per person in a recent year, about four quarts of hard liquor and four quarts of wine.

said the types and kinds of military equipment would be the major signpost of what the Reds were up to.

Although he did not say so directly, Mr. Eisenhower gave the impression that he does not expect a big military crisis in the Formosa-China mainland area in the foreseeable future.

On other foreign affairs topics, Mr. Eisenhower:

1. Expressed fervent hope that the new Allied agreements on Germany will bring about the end of the tragic causes of European conflict centering in the past in French-German hostility.

2. There has been no additional communication between him and Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov. The President said a week ago that he had been in personal correspondence with Zhukov, an old wartime friend.

Introduces Bill To Ban Picketing Of Small Businesses

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Sen. W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston) today introduced a bill to prevent organizing unions from using pickets to "force" small businesses to sign contracts with the picketing union.

Arrington said the bill would ban picketing of establishments with 50 or less employees by persons not employed there unless the employees were already members of the picketing union.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce issued a statement saying that there were 180,000 businesses in Illinois with 50 or less employees not protected by Taft-Hartley federal law picketing regulations.

Waldo B. Ames, president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, said unions could picket these establishments, turn away all deliveries and "force the employer to sign over his employees to the picketing union."

Ridgway Students Win Awards in State Music Contest

Ridgway high school sent three groups to enter in the State music contest at Illinois Wesleyan, Bloomington, last Friday and Saturday, and all three captured top awards.

Paul Cotton is band director at the school.

Students winning first place honors and their divisions were: Ronald Wilson, clarinet solo, accompanied by Janis Bailey; Ronald Woods, Dennis Grubb, Carmalou Woods, and Darla Dixon, mixed quartet; and Dennis Grubb, Don Edwards, Carolyn Atkins, Linda Miner and Richard Moore, saxophone sextet, accompanied by Sue Bradley.

Ike Pledges Polio Vaccine For Every Child

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today that polio vaccine will be distributed swiftly and fairly and that no child will be denied its protection because of inability to pay.

The White House later announced that the President would consider having the federal government buy the entire available supply of polio vaccine for free distribution if it developed children were being deprived of it because of inability to pay.

The President told a news conference that the government is going forward with the vaccine program as fast as possible in keeping with safety.

He said he believes a voluntary system for distribution is the best plan for getting the vaccine to children in the quickest and most equitable manner.

And he said the government has this determination — never will a child be denied its protection for inability to pay.

Rather Safe Than Sorry
Mr. Eisenhower opened his news conference with a discussion of the vaccine program, a subject which he said is close to all our hearts.

He said it is a very emotional subject because it deals with the lives of children of tender age.

He said one of the problems is to proceed as swiftly as possible with care and safety.

But he cautioned against going too fast. He said this is one case in which it is better to be safe than sorry.

He said he has given all sorts of consideration to federal control of the distribution of Salk vaccine as has been urged by several legislators. But he believes that the present voluntary plan is the best system.

He said he knew of no evidence of racketeering or blackmarketing in the distribution of the vaccine. He added that small amounts of what proved to be legitimate transactions.

States Distribute Vaccine
Mr. Eisenhower explained in detail the distribution system worked out by the government under which an advisory committee will make allocations to states and the producing companies will ship to the states on that ratio.

He said it is up to the states to handle the distribution within their borders.

Bill Fixing Date Of City Elections Passed by House

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois House today passed a bill fixing the first Tuesday in April as the date of all city and park district general elections.

Rep. Jack Bairstow (D-Waukegan) said there is unnecessary confusion with different forms of government holding elections on both the first and third Tuesdays in April.

The House also passed bills sponsored by Bairstow which would require that cities with commission form of government hold primaries on the second Tuesday in February instead of seven weeks before the primary, and put county Republican and Democratic chairmen on county election canvassing boards instead of two justices of the peace.

U. S. Plans Talks With France on Viet Nam Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans high level talks with France in an effort to find a common policy for dealing with the Vietnamese crisis, informed sources said today.

The talks will come when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flies to Paris Friday for meetings with the French and British foreign secretaries.

Although the meeting which begins Sunday is billed as a session on European problems, officials said Dulles undoubtedly would discuss U. S.-French differences over Viet Nam while he is in Paris.

He plans to take his top Far Eastern adviser, Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, on the trip.

Officials were unable to say what line Dulles would take in his talks on the Vietnamese situation because events in the Indochinese nation are moving so rapidly. But they said he likely will press the French to go along with U. S. policy of supporting Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

In doubles matches Polk and Cummins beat Henson and Thompson, 6-2, 6-2, and Hays and McGowan beat Byars and Jamison, 6-4, 8-6.

Nashua Faster In Exercise Than Trial Winner

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It produced a thrilling finish but Flying Fury's nose victory over Jean's Joe in the Derby Trial failed to reveal a serious threat to Nashua, Summer Tan, and Swaps for the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Still fresh in the minds of owners, trainers, groomers and exercising boys as Flying Fury carried Cain Hoy Stable's silks to its second victory in the trial, was the picture of rugged Nashua breezing through his last major workout for next Saturday's blue-ribboned classic.

Nashua Runs Faster Mile
With Jockey Eddie Arcaro holding on snugly, Nashua ran a faster mile in his exercise run in the morning than Flying Fury did in winning the trial in a hard drive in the afternoon.

Flying Fury was clocked in 1:28 with little Conn McCreary, who will try for Derby victory No. 3 with the colt, in the saddle. Nashua, the Belair stud colt who already has won three $100,000 races this year, the Flamingo Stakes, the Florida Derby and the Wood Memorial, finished the same distance in 1:37 3/5. He went on to complete a mile and one eighth in 1:50 3/5 and the full Kentucky Derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:05 2/5.

Probable Field Eight
The same three horses which loomed as Kentucky Derby starters before the running of the trial, remained so when it was over — Flying Fury, Jean's Joe and Honey Alibi, who finished fourth.

That fixed the probable field at eight with two other possibilities. Captain Harry F. Guggenheim of the Cain Hoy Stable also will start.

Racing Fool with Blue Lem in the other horse scheduled to run in the 81st and richest of all Kentucky derbies.

Trim Destiny was doubtful. Tuesday he also was sent over a mile in a training run. Jockey Louis C. Cook, who will ride in the Kentucky Derby if the horse starts, booted him through his paces in 1:40 4/5.

Behind Flying Fury and Jean's Joe in the trial was the surprising Nabesna owned by Clifford Moores.

Moores said he might start Nabesna but only if the track was muddy.

Committee Rejects 'Shrinking Violet' As State Flower

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The "shrinking violet" appeared headed for defeat in the Illinois Legislature today.

The Legislature's House Executive Committee had sniffed the aroma of a bouquet of roses and decided that Illinois needed a new state flower.

The violet now has that honor, but, as Rep. Carl H. Prehns of Pana pointed out Tuesday, the word "shrinking" is too often applied to that flower.

"We don't want anything that lacks firmness and determination," Prehns said.

He pointed to a huge bouquet of roses on a member's desk and announced that the violet is a vanishing bloom in Illinois, while the rose is in the ascendant.

Rep. John W. Lewis of Marshall tried to stick up for the poor violet. He quoted the old folk song which goes "violet, sweet violet, sweeter than all the roses."

But the legislators were not to be swayed by the sweet violet. They voted 13-9 for the rose.

More than 2,200 communities throughout America, in every state and territory, support units of the National Guard.

SIU Nine Seeks Double Win Against Eastern Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Southern Illinois University's baseball team seeks another double win this weekend against Eastern Illinois Teachers College at Charleston.

SIU took two victories from Northern Illinois Teachers last week and have a double-header with Eastern Friday. The Salukis are almost certain to face Eastern's Jack Kenny, the right-hander who pitched the only no-hitter in Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference history two weeks ago.

Southern now has a record of three wins and one loss and is in second place behind Illinois Normal in IAC standings. After Friday's twin bill, Southern will have six games left, finishing the season on the road with twin bills against Michigan Normal and Michigan Central.

Sugar Ray Robinson Meets Garth Panther In 10-Rounder Tonight

Indians' Rookie Catcher Runs Wild on Bases in 7-4 Victory Over Yankees

By United Press
An obscure rookie painfully reminded the Yankees today — just in case they had forgotten — that Cleveland still is "boss" of the American league.

The rookie who drove home the lesson literally in the Indians' 7-4 victory over the Yankees Tuesday night was catcher Hank Foibles, who once belonged to the Bronx Bombers, but was cut adrift.

Foibles, whose greatest recommendation heretofore was that he was Herb Score's regular receiver with Indianapolis of the American Association last year, ran wild against the Yankees in a four-run seventh inning rally that enabled the Indians to beat their old nemesis, Ed Lopat, and keep control of the American league lead.

Lopat led the way back to the screen, Foibles and Al Smith both scored while Berra was collecting himself, and Avila, who went to the fourth run on the frame on a single by Vic Wertz, Mike Garcia was the winning pitcher.

Red Sox Lose Sixth
Southpaw Billy Hoett's six-hitter and Al Kaline's two-run homer gave the Tigers a 4-2 decision over the Red Sox, who went down to their sixth straight defeat. The Tigers, remaining a half game behind the Indians, spotted Boston two runs in the third inning but scored one run in the fourth on a walk and Bill Tuttle's double, then chased Red Sox catcher with two more runs in the fifth.

Minnie Minoso's two-run single in the seventh inning was the winning blow in Chicago's 5-3 victory over Washington. Dick Donovan relieved Mike Fornieles in the third and gained credit for the victory. Sherm Lollar and Mickey Vernon each homered.

Boxer Collapses After Near-Fatal Brain Hemorrhage

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The condition of 28-year-old boxer Jose Contreras of Taunton, Mass., was slightly improved today after he suffered a near-fatal brain hemorrhage.

Contreras was reported in semiconscious condition at Rhode Island Hospital.

He collapsed in his dressing room Monday night after losing a middleweight bout with Bob Bolton of Providence on an eight-round TKO.

The Rhode Island Boxing Commission began an inquiry Tuesday night to determine why Referee Sharkey Buonanno allowed the fight to go so far. Contreras was floored in the fourth round and appeared helpless throughout the rest of the fight.

Doctors performed an emergency operation Monday night to remove a blood clot near his right temple.

A three-run homer by Bill Wilson in the eighth inning gave Kansas City a 4-3 triumph over Baltimore which had gone out in front on homers by Hoot Evers and Chuck Diering. Wilson's game-winning wallop came at the expense of Erv Palica. Ed Burtch, who relieved Art Ceccarelli in the eighth, was the winning pitcher.

Bob Rush's smooth four-hit pitching plus three booming triples gave the up-and-coming Cubs a 6-0 victory over the faltering Giants. Rookie Bob Speake's triple with the bases full in the first inning was enough to beat Jim Hearn.

Fondly added a pair of triples later. It marked the Cubs' fourth straight victory and moved them to within 5 1/2 games of the National League-leading Dodgers, who were idle. The loss left the world champion Giants eight full games off the pace.

Pirates Win Third Straight
Southpaw Dick Littlefield, Pittsburgh's most effective pitcher last year, hurled a fine seven-hitter in beating Milwaukee, 4-0, for the Pirates' third straight conquest. Littlefield registered seven strikeouts, getting Eddie Mathews three times, and collected two of Pittsburgh's eight hits off loser Warren Spahn and two relievers.

Four home runs powered Cincinnati to a 7-5 triumph over Philadelphia. Ted Kluszewski hit his sixth and seventh homers, Gus Bell his third and Chuck Harmon his second as the Phils dropped their fifth straight. Bud Podbielan, fourth Cincinnati pitcher, retired the last 11 men in order to gain the win.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—The four directors for massed choruses and bands in the Southern Illinois Music Festival May 7 have been selected from schools in Carbondale, Marion, Harrisburg and Centralia, it was announced today.

The 1400-voice elementary school choir, including youngsters chosen from all parts of southern Illinois, will be directed by Margaretta Carey of the Southern Illinois university faculty. The 1100-voice high school choir will be led by J. T. Alexander, music director for the Centralia high school and Junior college.

Lavern Sanders, director of instrumental music in the grade schools at Marion, will conduct the elementary band of more than 200 young musicians, and Marshall Cothran, director of instrumental music at Harrisburg Township high school, will direct a 200-piece high school band.

The elementary chorus was organized and had rehearsal sessions in connection with a Southern Illinois junior music festival at Marion. The high school band came to SIU for rehearsal sessions last Sunday, and the high school chorus will practice on the day of the festival.

Other directors of the festival will include: Mrs. Don LeMasters, Carbondale, directing May pole dancers; Norma Aubuchon, St. Louis, who will direct baton twirlers, and Leo Sliva, Olney, who is bringing the Olney high school marching band to the "Music Under the Stars" presentation.

Miss Carey, the elementary chorus director, has been at Southern since 1949 and has been music consultant for 10 workshops during that time. She received her training at Lebanon Valley College, the University of Rochester, Eastman School of Music and Pennsylvania State College.

J. T. Alexander has had wide experience as director of choirs,

Work on the Carrier Mills park, sponsored by the Carrier Mills Lions club, has been resumed following a lay off during the winter months.

Construction of roadways has been started and several loads of rock hauled to the area. Bridges also have been built across the creek that winds through the park.

It is hoped construction on a shelter house will get underway soon and drilling of a well is also scheduled for the near future.

WPA type toilets will be used and anyone having a WPA toilet building they will donate to the park is asked to contact Harry Fife, president of the Carrier Mills Lions club.

The date the road will be closed is not known at present, it was stated this morning.

Bandung Report Reads Good, But Will Reds Keep Promises?

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It may be weeks before Washington knows the real answers on what happened at the Bandung, Indonesia, conference of 29 Afro-Asian nations. Experts are now combing the record of speeches and the communiqué, looking for holes.

First reaction was that this conference was a great and unexpected victory for the West. This is now giving way to a sober second look.

It is now seen that it will take a completely changed way of life and an awful lot of good deeds for the Chinese Communists to live up to the pious resolutions they agreed to at Bandung.

In this respect, the Bandung communiqué may be a good bit like the Yalta agreement. If the Russian Communists had lived up to their Yalta promises, Chiang Kai-shek might still head the Chinese mainland government.

And if the Red Chinese do not live up to their Bandung commitments, the communiqué is just another scrap of paper.

SOME OF THE IDEALISM of the United Nations charter was written into this communiqué. It includes the seventh and final section of the Bandung communiqué. It is stated in ten points:

1. Respect for fundamental human rights and for the purposes and principles of the U. N. charter.

Red China has never recognized such rights even for its own people and it has openly defied the U. N. authority.

2. Respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of all nations.

Dust Bowl Farmers Say Rain Will Return Wheat Fields, Green Pastures

Editor's Note: A veteran U. P. reporter who covers the Agriculture Department last week went on a four-day flying tour of the "Dust Bowl" area with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. In the following dispatch, he describes the havoc wrought in the southern Great Plains by drought and wind.

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Drought and dust storms have brought desolation—but not despair—to the southern Great Plains. Conditions are bad. And damage will get worse unless there is rain soon.

But there seems to be no great natural disaster impending comparable to the misery and mass emigration induced by the drought and dust bowl conditions of the 1930s.

The present drought, building up since 1950, covers millions of acres, stunting and destroying crops. Roaring winds pick up the dry earth and swirl gritty, choking dust 20,000 feet and more into the air. The winds tear up valuable, almost irreplaceable topsoil, filter it into homes and against livestock and people. It creates acute discomfort.

People are living with the current drought and dust. They are staying put on their farms and in small towns. They have moved many of their cattle herds, some

Douglas, Gray Ask Illinois Location For Federal Prison

Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Representative Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) announced today the results of an intensive survey they have made concerning the location of a new Federal maximum security prison, to approach Alcatraz in size, in the State of Illinois and gave their full support to efforts to win favorable consideration for Illinois.

The Douglas and Gray findings are as follows: All Washington agencies interested in the construction of the new facility report that they wish to place it "close to the center of population of the United States," which they interpret as the Middle West. James V. Bennett, Director of the Justice Department's Bureau of Prisons, states that the location has not yet been chosen. The matter is still in a planning stage, with completion estimated to be in about three or four years. This is confirmed by Attorney General Brownell. The request for the new penal institution is presently in the Bureau of the Budget. If favorably acted upon there, it will next be presented to Congress for authorization and appropriation of funds. Plans are in the very early stages, however, and no responsible official has yet mentioned any particular site or community—in Illinois or elsewhere—for its location.

Senator Douglas has announced that he has also written both the Bureau of Prisons and the Attorney General asking consideration for Illinois as the location of the prison. He stated, "Illinois, because of its great reservoir of skilled labor, its agricultural, meat packing and related productivities, and its unexcelled transportation systems, is a logical place to locate this prison." Senator Douglas and Representative Gray further indicated that they will exert every effort to bring this new Federal penal facility to Illinois.

by sale, some by transfer, to greener ranges. But many of them have saved basic foundation herds, ready for a comeback when the rains come.

The people have an air of grim cheerfulness mixed with concern about the weather conditions. They feel that rain will come, bringing back lush wheat fields, green ranges and fat cattle.

This impression was gained in last week's drought inspection tour with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson through eastern Colorado, southwestern Kansas, the Oklahoma and Texas panhandles, and eastern New Mexico.

"Conditions are somewhat worse than I anticipated," Benson said after a 700-mile bus ride over the area. He applied that description to the overall condition of the area. He singled out southwestern Kansas as being "better than anticipated" and the Oklahoma Panhandle as "really better than I anticipated."

Mrs. Judith Holt, postmistress for 18 years at the hamlet of Wild Horse, Colo., said the current storms don't seem as bad as those of 1937. Mrs. Holt said the winds were stronger then.

But Colorado Gov. Edwin C. Johnson, who served his first term during the dusty 30s, says the current storms are worse. He said 20 per cent of Colorado's wheat "may make it if we get a break in moisture."

Leslie Kiefer, a Rocky Ford, Colo., farmer, said:

"I get disgusted with the drought and dust. But I remember the good years I've had, and I know there will be other good years."

Robert G. Sheets, county agent for Texas County, Okla., said "a two-inch rain will cure all our ills."

World's first commercial chick hatchery was started in New Washington, Ohio, in 1897.

IT HAPPENED IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS: The Trail of Tears

By JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University
In March, 1839, the last group of the exiled Cherokee Indians passed through southern Illinois over the route known as "The Trail of Tears." In the interval since that time books and articles aggregating millions of words have been written concerning the migration. Stories connected with it are yet heard among the older Cherokees in Oklahoma and still others come from local lore along the trail they followed.

This route, 800 miles long, extended from the Great Smokies to present day Oklahoma. It passed through Tennessee, Kentucky, southern Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. It was well named, for the journey over it was a tragic and heartbreaking one.

Perhaps no part of the long trail held more of tragedy than the section lying in this state, for it was here that more than 10,000 of the unfortunate travelers were forced to halt for several weeks between mid-December, 1838, and early March, 1839. This was necessary because floating ice in the Mississippi prevented operation of ferries.

Makeshift Camps
The crude camps marking the trail in southern Illinois were strung along at intervals from Golconda on the Ohio, through Allen Springs (now Dixon Springs), Wartburg, Vienna, Mt. Pleasant and Jonesboro to the crossing of Dutch Creek on the road leading westward toward Cape Girardeau. These makeshift camps provided poor shelter against the unusually severe winter weather.

Transportation was available only for the very old, the infirm, small children and perhaps an occasional Indian who was able to pay for it. About 8000 of them were left to plod the entire way on foot, sometimes without shoes or moccasins.

The Indians were thinly clad and their bedding was light. Medical care was poor and was at a minimum. Rations were meager and monotonous. This is indicated by the oft repeated entry in journals of "salt pork and meal." There is some evidence that coffee and sugar were occasionally given to favored persons or could be bought by those with sufficient funds.

Ruthless Round Up
These 10,000 Indians represented the forlorn tribe that had been gathered from their homes by a force of 7000 soldiers made up of regular army men, militia and volunteers. The troops employed were under the command of General Winfield Scott. As they were rounded up, the Indians were placed in stockades near the United States Indian Agency on the Hiwassee river not far from the present town of Charleston, Tenn.

The method by which the Indians were gathered was a ruthless one. Their homes were surrounded. They were given little or no opportunity to collect their personal belongings. The bits that a few did succeed in gathering were often ordered left behind when the trek began. Indians seized at their homes often saw their buildings burned to the ground and their property destroyed or taken by plunderers before the owners had passed from view. The Indians had already traversed about half of the bitter trail when they entered Illinois at Golconda on December 15, 1838.

The Cherokees were perhaps the most civilized of the larger tribes in America. They had their own written language. The alphabet for this language had been developed by the brilliant Sequoia, for whom the great trees of California were later named. The alphabet that Sequoia devised is still in occasional use and compares very favorably with any alphabet man has developed. The author has a newspaper printed in the Cherokee language in 1950.

Owned Property
They had well established churches and their schools were comparable to those of the whites. Many of their leaders had received college educations. They lived in settled abodes. Their houses were as well built as those of the whites. Some of them might even be termed pretentious. There are those who credit the Cherokees with an independent development of the pioneer type of log cabin.

They regularly paid taxes, and owned property, even slaves. One of these slaves, a quadroon girl, was sold by one of the chiefs to Basil Silkwood of Mulkeytown.

The Indians regularly elected representatives to govern them. They were not a degenerate people.

Tragedy, however, came to them. The Georgia legislature decided that it wanted the portion of Cherokee lands within the state. Laws were accordingly enacted to take it and to set aside the tribal laws and the rather well-established government of the Indians. Gold mines opened on the lands held by the Indians were promptly declared property of the state. Farms, long occupied and cultivated by the Indians, were allocated by lottery to white settlers. A law was passed saying—"No Indian or descendant of an Indian... shall be deemed a competent witness... in any case in court... to which a white person may be a party." Other states in which parts of the reservation lay enacted similar laws. Many Escaped

A treaty of cession was arranged with a few handpicked Indians, not regularly selected representatives of the Cherokee nation. Many of these were bribed by land grants, money or promises—often only promises. Andrew Jackson, then serving as president, lent full support to their removal. About 2000 of the Indians emigrated to the West under this arrangement. More than 15,000 others did not recognize the arrangement as binding upon them. It was from these 15,000 that the group passing thru southern Illinois came.

Every effort was made to capture all the Indians on their eastern reservation. Many succeeded in evading the soldiers and thus hid in the hills. Others escaped from the stockades where they were gathered. Some fled from the group as it moved along, and still others returned from Oklahoma. The descendants of these Indians now live about Cherokees, North Carolina today and reenact each year the pageant, "Unto These Hills," that depicts the tragic incidents of their forced removal. Perhaps no other Indians were treated more severely.

5 BASIC REASONS FOR PONTIAC'S RECORD-BREAKING SALES

1. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS 200 HORSEPOWER

If you delight in flashing performance, here's all the reason you need to join the record-breaking thousands who are swinging to Pontiac. The 200 horsepower delivered by the economical Strato-Streak V-8 with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, is the highest power ever delivered by a car at Pontiac's price—higher than that of cars costing considerably more. For thrills and thrills it's Pontiac all the way!

2. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LONG WHEELBASE

Model for model, Pontiac has a longer wheelbase than any car at its price—122" or 124", depending on whether you select an 860, 870, or Star Chief model. And that's important because a long wheelbase is the reason for Pontiac's smooth, road-leveling ride and the roomy comfort of Pontiac's large, luxurious bodies—advantages that put Pontiac on a level with costly cars for sheer riding pleasure.

3. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LUXURY-CAR STABILITY

The big, husky Pontiac with rugged X-member frame gives you the safe, solid feel at cruising speeds that motorists have formerly paid high prices to enjoy. And it links this road-holding comfort with ease of control like that of costly sport cars. You travel in superlative comfort in a Pontiac for the lowest price ever placed on such big-car stability.

4. PONTIAC'S DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY IS UNMATCHED AT ANY PRICE

Pontiac gives you style and beauty that are a perfect match for its colorful performance. Future-furnished lines, Vogue Two-Tone styling and Twin-Streaked hood provide dash and glamour unsurpassed by any other car at any price.

5. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes

CAPTAIN I. R. OLSON tells why he uses Flite-Fuel

"I'm a Captain for Continental Air Lines. We use Phillips 66 Aviation Gasoline regularly in our airplanes. It contains the super-power component Di-isopropyl, and that makes it a very high performance fuel. In my car, I like to get the best performance possible so I use Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL. It's the only automobile gasoline that contains added Di-isopropyl. It gives me what I want... power, smoothness and long mileage."

Cashmeres Have Elegant Look

Elegance comes to the fore in these cashmere sweaters for spring. The long look in cashmere (left) has a self-bordered square neckline, a pull-through tab for the popular long beads. The three-quarter sleeves and hem have a welt finish. It's in a rich Gauguin coral. The polo shirt (right) has a button-down collar and little turn-up cuffs. The neckline can be converted to open front for warm days. The soft, slightly longer line has a casually elegant look. Both are Beatrice Nickoff designs for Hadley.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Alan Ladd's still playing it safe as to movie roles. He nixed Jack Warner's offer to star in the film version of Jay Richard Kennedy's bitter novel about a Hollywood movie king, "Prince Bart."

The shocker of several seasons ago was considered by Ladd for a while, but he finally decided that the role of the hard-drinking, girl-chasing film idol, who dies at the peak of his career, wasn't for him. But it's Alan's prediction: "Any actor who will play it will get an Oscar nomination. But it's not for me."

NOTE FROM the Virgin Islands, where U-I is filming "Away All Boats."

Island bobby-soxers, well-versed in the ways of Hollywood, have declared Jeff Chandler as The Man We'd Most Like to Share Our Frangi Pangli With. Frangi Pangli is a local baked fish dish. Oh, poi!

The Howard Manor at Palm Springs is serving an "Arthur Godfrey Cocktail." One sip and it fires you. Main ingredients are champagne and brandy.

Another movie, "Rose Tattoo," will have a title song that will never be heard in the picture. Tunesmiths Jack Brooks and Harry Warren are writing the tune for commercial recording only.

Traffic accidents in Los Angeles, it's been suggested, could be cut in half by outlawing the sounding of horns on the theory that you drive more safely. Not a bad idea for Hollywood, either—less horn blowing and more use of talent.

More censors are huddling about the love scenes between Bill Holden and Jennifer Jones in "A Many Splendored Thing." Too warm for the movie theaters.

FIRST REAL NAME of Hollywood's new glamor find, British-born Dana Wynter, is Dagmar. She switched to Dana because of TV's busy one.

Mickey Rooney is preparing "A Twinkle in God's Eye"—a western in which he plays a priest.

U-I officials are holding their breaths. They've asked President Eisenhower to speak the prologue to "To Hell and Back," the studio's Audie Murphy life story starring Audie.

I asked Line Renaud, the French cutie who sang on Bob Hope's TV show, about the men she's met in Hollywood. Marlon Brando, she said, amazed her the most.

"Why, hey call heem screwy ball? He calm and quiet. Always he seem to theenk. He speaks ze fluent French and is veree 'andsome."

About Jack Warner: "At table he wheestle like a bird."

Bob Hope, of course, is her dreamboat: "He perform so strong he could put you completely een background. But, au contraire, he always put you een spotlight."

John Wayne hired Bob Mitchum's brother, John, for a role in "The Lock and The Key." No hard feelings about the Mitchums since Bob was fired from "Blood Alley."

Old but worth reviving. The irate wife of a movie star, who had gone fishing and left her alone, was asked where he could be found.

"Just go down to the bridge and look around until you find a pole with a worm on each end," she replied.

SHELLY WINTERS' deal to co-star with Rory Calhoun in "The Treasure of Pancho Villa" helps put her on easy street. She collects a four-figure check each month for the next four years for the stint, with Howard Hughes personally guaranteeing the payments.

Television censors at work note: A recent Red Skelton cowboy routine had someone asking him: "How are you with a pair of 38's?" To which Red replied, "Fine, and I'm great with skinny girls, too."

CBS censor Ed Nathan saved the border-line gag by switching the question to: "How are you with a 38?" Red's answer remained the same.

8,500 Women Now Officials of Banks

DES MOINES — Women bank officers are no longer oddities. The nation now has 8,500 women bank officers, Helen L. Rhinehart of Des Moines told a bankers convention here.

"The tellers and stenographers of the war years are in many instances the cashiers and vice presidents of today and tomorrow," she said.

"This is logical since women spend 85 per cent of every consumer dollar, pay 80 per cent of inheritance taxes, benefit from 80 per cent of the life insurance policies and inherit 70 per cent of the estates left by men," she said.

New Look for Capital Sightseers: Rubberneck Trade Goes Intellectual

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If you're one of the several million persons planning a sightseeing visit to the nation's capital this year, come prepared to do more than rubberneck.

Be ready to think, too. They've tossed the 20-year-old standard guidebook into the Potomac River and have rewritten it on the assumption that people now want to learn, in addition to look, when they visit the town.

For instance, no longer will the visitor be assailed by that corny line, "on your left, ladies and gentlemen, is the Bureau of Eternal Revenue."

Instead, the guide will explain that the edifice is a result of the passage of the 16th Amendment which empowers Uncle Sam to tax individual incomes. He will reveal that the people inside the bureau building are mostly busy checking returns to make sure the citizens have not cheated on their taxes.

"During the past few years we have become increasingly aware that our customers weren't satisfied to be told what a building is or when it was built," explains Henry Burroughs, head of a firm (Grayline) which handles about 60 per cent of the sightseeing business in town.

"And that's especially true of the kids," he adds. "They demand to know why such a building or monument exists and are bored with the number of bricks it has. So, we've revised our whole tour program."

Most of the other sightseeing outfits are following suit. Here's the way they will be introducing the White House, for instance:

"Our next stop will be at the oldest and most beloved building in Washington—the White House. It has its name because it was painted white after being fired by the British in 1814 and charred black. Actually, it is built of gray sandstone. We think the White House was not built of marble because of the difficulty of transporting marble to the site."

Mississippi Jail Is Like Sieve

COLUMBUS, Miss. — People who feel they can't stand confined places would be at ease if tossed into the Lowndes County jail here.

The jail is so full of holes that prisoners remain strictly at their own risk.

"Any prisoner who wishes freedom can merely step through one of a number of holes in the floor and walk away," said Sheriff C. E. Farmer.

The sheriff quit plugging up the escape routes in the century-old jail months ago. It was a losing battle.

"As fast as I filled in one hole, they dug some place else," he explained.

Farmer said the prisoners are on the "honor system," promising to stay in jail before he'll lock them up.

At least seven inmates have gone back on their word and skipped out. Several others with a touch of wanderlust were thwarted only because of the alertness of farmer and jailer Russell Scofield.

It's so easy to dig an escape route that one prisoner made it using only a fork handle and a shattered chair leg.

"Our more dangerous prisoners are placed in city jail for safekeeping," Farmer said.

More Than Half Million Americans to Visit Europe; Will Spend Half Billion

By United Press

The greatest horde of overseas tourists in history—more than half a million Americans—will swarm over Western Europe from now until October.

They are charter members of a revolution in vacationing.

It is an uprising which is taking tens of thousands every summer from the jammed U. S. highways and sending them by plane and ship across the Atlantic.

They will spend as little as $360 or as much as $2,290 just to get there and back.

They will find that Italy has supplanted France as the American tourist's favorite country. They will discover that in Madrid one does not have dinner until 10 p. m. They will bristle at a 12 1/2 per cent "service" levy that still does not take the place of a tip. They will find cafes slowly surrendering on serving ice water; hotelkeepers still resisting individual bath with room.

Half a billion dollars they will spend altogether for fares, lodging, food, wines, guides, entertainment and purchases.

They will find Capri crowded. Gasoline 88 cents a gallon in Italy. Famous Oxford University only a few blocks from a miniature Detroit. The same 400-day clocks for sale in Munich as in Chicago.

Some will go by guided tour and wish they weren't being herded. Others will strike out on their own and wind up paying twice as much as they should and seeing less.

They will discover that snob appeal, keeping not only up with but ahead of the Jones, is one of the main motivations for foreign travel and a big reason why Americans notoriously hurtle from country to country.

Yet the great majority will come back tremendously pleased with having spent their vacation in Europe. They will consider their money well used and look forward to going again.

More Each Year

Their numbers go up every year. In 1953 some 376,000 Americans vacationed in Europe. Last year it was around 450,000. This year's total is estimated at a record 500,000.

Why are Americans in such growing numbers going abroad? There are many answers but the biggest one unquestionably is the airplane. It has made it possible for a man with only two or three weeks' vacation to span the ocean swiftly enough to see something of the Old World.

Second big factor is continuing American prosperity and the discovery that Europe is a pretty good bargain as a vacation land. Except in fancier hotels and restaurants, prices are well below those in the United States—and the food usually better.

The American Express Co. estimated that a person going to Europe for on $25 to $35 a day. That includes the cost of transportation there and back. That, of course, is a minimum figure and allows for few frills.

Powell Proposal Would Save Motorists $7 Million Annually

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special to The Daily Register)—Illinois motor vehicle owners would save close to $7 million annually if a bill offered in the House of the General Assembly last week becomes law. It would put a $10 ceiling on license plates for passenger automobiles and reduce the fee for light weight trucks. The loss in revenue would be offset by a thin mile impost on big trucks.

The bill, sponsored by Reps. Paul Powell, D., Vienna; Clyde Choate, D., Anna; and C. R. Ratcliffe, D., Beardstown, would abolish horse power as a basis for fees. It would set a flat $10 as the amount for any car but owners of cars now paying $6.50 would continue to do so. It reduces the flat weight tax on light trucks and puts a compulsory mileage tax on truck grossing more than 20,000 pounds.

Powell said "it's about time we give passenger automobile and light weight truck owners a break. They are now paying about $65 million annually with the big interstate truckers using our roads without paying license plate fees or the state gasoline tax. The bill will make those who use the highway the most pay the most and remove inequities and inconsistencies."

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, has a new chore in the process of being earmarked for him. The Stratton administration is making good on promises two years ago that when the new $11,500,000 state office building here is ready for occupancy, Carpenter will get the job. A bill giving him control of the building on January 1, 1956, was offered in the House last week.

Butterfat content of whole fluid milk would be boosted from three per cent to three and one half per cent under legislation which the House has advanced to passage. The increase was sponsored by Rep. John K. Morris, D., Chadwick. The bill sets up milk in three classifications, skimmed milk, modified and whole fluid milk. Containers must be labeled as to class and butterfat content.

State Rep. George W. Wilson, R., Baylis, is preparing a bill for House introduction to permit payment of personal property taxes in two installments. He said there are many farmers and other persons who pay big personal property taxes "and I can't see any reason why they shouldn't get the same kind of a break as real estate owners who pay in two installments."

State Rep. Ralph (Scissors) Stephenson, R., Moline, claims he now has nine assistants in his efforts to trim biennial appropriations as they are called in the House of the General Assembly. He started out as a lone objector earlier this month but when he suggested last week that an appropriation of $84,000 for rehabilitating of the Executive Mansion be cut he found he had helpers.

Stephenson estimates that if the $1,710 million state budget submitted to the legislature by Gov. Wil-

Weather Bureau Aids Civil Defense On Fall-Out Hazard

The head of Chicago's U. S. weather bureau is cooperating with Illinois' Civil Defense in devising ways to combat the latest H-bomb menace of radioactive "fall-out."

This announcement by General Robert M. Woodward, State Civil Defense director, followed a recent one by the Atomic Energy Commission which for the first time clarified the danger of wind-borne radioactive "fall-out." He said Joe Fuks, meteorologist in charge of the Chicago U. S. weather bureau, will cooperate with Civil Defense officials as technical advisor on all atmospheric aspects of the "fall-out" problem.

Fuks, a native of Alabama and recent arrival in this area, is a world-renowned weather expert of more than 30 years' experience. He is a graduate of the University of Utah, California Institute of Technology and studied at the Institute of Meteorology in Stockholm, Sweden. Before assignment to Chicago he worked in the central office of the U. S. weather bureau, Washington, D. C., on tornado and severe storm situations.

General Woodward said Fuks is developing methods expected to give Illinois' Civil Defense better ways to determine quickly the radioactivity in the air at given points. "Fall-out" is lethal dust and debris from clouds carrying material siphoned out of the explosion area of a thermonuclear bomb. The charting of wind velocity, drift and humidity will be an important factor in determining areas where the death-dealing dust might sift down, General Woodward explained.

The weather bureau's cooperation will assist the new operational plans of Illinois' Civil Defense where in Civil Air Patrol planes will take to the air immediately after an attack to relay by radio information concerning the intensity of radioactive "fall-out" present in clouds, direction of drift and speed of movement.

The Atomic Energy Commission's recent announcement stated that "fall-out" can be extremely hazardous for people and animals within a 7000-square-mile area downwind from a thermonuclear explosion.

Commercial airlines in the United States make about 2,155 scheduled flights a day, which is one every 40 seconds.

Pies Too Fattening Says German Bride

ALPHA, Ill. — A German war-bride here said she likes American foods but pies are "the toughest to make and so fattening."

Mrs. Arthur Price, 25, said Americans eat too many canned vegetables, compared to Germans who like them fresh. She said American hamburger and hot dogs are good, but thinks the buns should be less soft and sweet.

American dress also drew a comment from her. She said "blue jeans don't beautify a woman."

Mrs. Price said American cooking wasn't new when she started housekeeping in America because she learned from an American cookbook her husband's mother sent her while she was still living in Germany.

Army's Top Medico Also Supply Whiz

MAJ. GEN. HAYS: Too many obstetricians are unwise. By NEA Service

WASHINGTON (NEA)—During the fighting in Korea the Army Medical Corps set a record for all wars when only 23 per cent of the wounded died. During World War I it was 81 per cent and 45 per cent for World War II.

This excellent Korean record was due in no small part to the fact that there was almost never a shortage of medical supplies for the wounded. And behind this accomplishment was Maj. Gen. Silas Beach Hays, newly-appointed Surgeon General of the Army.

Hays has the unique distinction in medical circles for being just as famous as a supply man as he is a doctor. In 1937 he shifted from general surgery to enter medical supply work at the New York General Depot.

When World War II broke out

he had become such an expert in this field he was placed in charge of getting medical equipment and supplies to the European Theater. And by good fortune he happened to have been in charge of medical supplies in the Far East when the Korean fighting started. Adequate preparedness is his favorite topic. He says:

"One challenge, which we constantly face is preparedness. Every once in a while in peacetime we develop a solution to a problem only to discover at a later date that our solution is not workable in war."

"For example, if we develop in peacetime a system of clinical records and train everybody in their use only to find when war comes that they are unsuitable we have made a grave mistake. Likewise, if we train more men in obstetrics than we need in peacetime we are not wise. On the other hand the training of more surgeons than we need in peace would be in the interest of preparedness."

Gen. Hays, who was born in St. Paul, Minn., won his medical degree from the University of Iowa in 1928 and was commissioned in the Army in 1931 after completing a course at the Medical Field Service School.

Women Want Style in Shoes, Men Seek Comfort

ROCKLAND, Mass. — Women buy shoes in the interest of style, while men buy shoes for comfort, a survey by the National Foot Health Council reveals.

A person's feet differ in size, and the survey showed that men buy shoes for the bigger foot, but women buy their footwear for the smaller one.

The council's study said shoes should not be sold by the pair but fitted individually to each foot — even if one foot is a size or two larger than the other.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

THE STORY: In the robbery of a Savings bank at Liberty, Mo., Jesse James and his band obtain a wheatsack full of greenbacks. A 19-year-old college student is murdered.

Cole's handsome features were set in a cement of rare ugliness. Dingus was different. Cole had always known he was. Somewhere in Dingus, God had left something out. Something most men, no matter how mean or wicked, had in them. And something which they had to face up to, like it or not, short of coldblooded murder.

When the pressure built up in him it just ran around in that crazy brain of his until it came to that empty place, then it just jumped. When it jumped, Dingus pulled the trigger. It made no mortal difference to him who was standing in front of the gun.

Cole knew that if his words hit that empty place in his head, he would kill him as quick as he had that poor boy back yonder.

"Dingus," he said softly. "Why did you do it?"

Jesse favored his left-hand gun. And Cole was riding on his left.

The small hand flashed downward. But not so swiftly as the big one did, outward. Cole's long fingers came around Jesse's reaching wrist like the released jaws of a baitpan trap.

Jesse made no attempt to free the pinioned wrist. The two rode on, the little drama so swift, so close between the flanked horse, that Frank, riding 10 yards to the rear, saw nothing.

"You ever again pull a trick like downing that boy," Cole concluded, "you and me are through. You know what I'm talking about, Dingus. We've been here before."

Jesse looked at him, the bad-wild light Cole knew so well gone from his blue eyes. He did not look at him long, and he dropped his head with his reply. His words were hedged with defensive anger, but Cole had a fine ear for the high, thin voice of his boyhood idol. Within the limits of his wild way, Dingus was ashamed. He was ashamed and he knew that Cole knew he was.

He looked up now, but still away from Cole. "I know that 'noble heart' of yours. It'll get you killed or caught one day. Too, you hear? Let's just forget it. The boy says me, spit-close. I didn't cotton to the way he kept looking at me when we rode in. It don't pay to take chances. I reckoned he might have knowed me from somewhere."

The fact of the Liberty affair was that Jesse, by his use of Greenup Bird's name in ordering the cashier caged, demonstrated that he knew the man. It would seem to follow that Bird knew him. Bird and his discreet son, William, refused to testify on the question of whether the James boys and Coleman Younger had composed the trio which entered his bank.

The prior fact of the Liberty affair was that Captain Minter had positively identified Cole as the man who bought the sack of meal on the morning of the robbery, the identical sack later found abandoned at the Ray County crossing of the Missouri. Knowing Cole as he did, the proprietor of the Blue Mills Ferry could not have failed to recognize his two companions at the feed mill negotiations; the blinking-eyed, nervous boy and his taller, thin-faced, comrade-in-waiting, or more explicitly, his older brother-in-actual blood.

But educating Rush Stepp as to the notorious identities of that morning's meal customers and repeating the same testimony under oath at Liberty proved two vastly different proposals. When he was queried, Captain Minter's memory took a sudden vacation. For the official record he had never even heard of Jesse and Frank James, much less sold them and Cole Younger a sack of Missouri wheat-meal at Blue Mills Ferry the morning of the robbery.

The exact situation was no different than would be a similar situation today. Police protection meant little or nothing to witnesses who had far more fear of the given word of certain outlaws, than respect for the bounden promises of uncertain law officers. That given outlaw word was very simple: "Shut up or get shot."

It is a singular fact that in the eight major "bank failures" which followed the Liberty fiscal collapse of February 13, in each of which the James boys were named, not one Missouri citizen's name appears under oath on the surviving courthouse records of inquiry, in connection with the identification of Younger, Thomas Coleman, or James, Jesse Woodson or James, Alexander Franklin.
